VOL. I.

CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT,) N. Y., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1872.

NO. 180.

THE DAILY FREEMAN,

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

Sundays excepted.

BY HORATIO FOWKS,

Newkirk Building, Division St.,

City of Kingston, (Rondout, N. Y.)

The Daily Freeman will be an Independent Republican Journal, with an opinion on every subject, arm in its advocacy of freedom, equal rights and just laws for all men; outspoken in its opposition to the abuses and the follies of the day, in favor of progress and improvement everywhere, and especially devoted to the interests of the City of Kingston and vicinity.

The Telegraphic News Department will be complete and well supplied, the Freeman being a Member of THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED PRESS, through which it receives and is enabled to present a full and complete summary of all the news of the world every morning.

Local News and especially City, Town and County news will receive special attention, paid correspondents being employed in all parts of the county. All news received from other than our regular correspondents will be paid for if used. Full reports of all important meetings will be presented, and in every respect the Daily Freeman will be a First-Class Paper and a worthy companion of the WEEKLY FREEMAN.

Commercial and Stock Reports carefully collected every day.

The Daily Freeman will furnish for the breakfast table of its patrons the News from All Parts of the World up to 5 o'clock, A. M.

Terms—Six Dollars per year, payable invariably in advance. If collected weekly, Fifteen Cents per week. Single copies four cents.

Advertisements will be displayed as ordered, and charged according to the space occupied, measured in inches down the column.

THE WEEKLY FREEMAN, a large, well-filled paper, will be sent to subscribers at $2 per annum, payable in advance.

JOHN PRINTED in all its branches promptly, cheaply and neatly done. By the use of a new Power and a large force we are enabled to turn out work at a rate that distances all competition. We have facilities for printing Law Cases unequalled between New York and Albany.

Sandwich Island Christians.

All the natives are Christians now, but many of them still desert to the great Shark God for temporary succor in time of trouble. An eruption of the great volcano of Kilinaea or an earthquake always brings a great deal of latent loyalty to the great Shark God to the surface. It is common report that the King—educated, cultivated Christian gentleman as he undoubtedly is—still turns to the idols of his fathers for help when danger threatens.

A planter caught a shark, and one of his Christianized natives testified his emancipation from the thrall of ancient superstition by assisting to dissect the shark after a fashion forbidden by his former creed. But remorse shortly began to torture him. He grew moody, and sought solitude; brooded over his sin, refused food, and finally said he must die and ought to die, for he had sinned against the great Shark God and could never know peace any more. He was proof against persuasion and ridicule, and in the course of a day or two took to his bed and died, although he showed no symptom of disease.

His young daughter followed his lead and suffered a like fate in a week. Superstition is ingrained in the native blood and bone, and it is only natural that it should crop out in time of distress.

In the rural districts of any of the islands the traveler hourly comes upon parties of dusky maidens bathing in the streams or in the sea, without any clothing on, and no very temperate zeal in the matter of biding their nakedness. When the missionaries first took up their residence in Honolulu the native woman would pay their families frequent friendly visits day by day, not even clothed with a blush. It was a hard matter to convince them that this was rather indecent. Finally the missionaries provided them with long loose calico robes, and that ended the difficulty, for the women would troop through the town stark naked with their robes folded under their arms; marched to the missionary houses, and then proceeded to dress. The natives soon manifested a proclivity for clothing, but it was shortly apparent that they only wanted it for grandeur. The missionaries imported a quantity of hats, bonnets, and other male and female wearing apparel, instituted a general distribution, and begged the people not to come to church naked next Sunday, as usual. And they did not; but the national spirit of unselfishness led to divide up with neighbors not at the distribution, and the next Sabbath the poor preachers could hardly keep countenance before their vast congregations.

In the midst of the reading of the hymn a brown stately dame would sweep up the aisle with a world of airs, with nothing in the world on but a stove pipe hat and a pair of cheap gloves; another dame would follow tricked out in a man's shirt and nothing else; another one would enter with a flourish with simply the sleeves of a bright calico dress tied around her waist, and the rest of the garment dragging behind like a peacock's tail off duty. A stately buck Kanaka would stalk in with a woman's bonnet on, wrong side before—only this and nothing more; after him would stride his fellow with the legs of a pair of pantaloons tied around his neck, the rest of his person untrammelled; in his rear would come another gentleman simply gotten up in a flannel necktie and striped vest. The poor creatures were beaming with complacency and wholly unconscious of any absurdity in their appearance.

The spectacle which the congregation presented was so extraordinary, and so moving, the missionaries found it difficult to keep to the text and go on with the service; and by and by when the simple children of the sun began a general swarming of garments in open meeting, and produced some irresistibly grotesque effects in the course of redressing, there was nothing for it but to cut the thing short with the benediction and dismiss the fantastic assemblage.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 17, 1872.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Remember Mr. Turck's benefit to-night in Washington Hall.

Coal Arrival.

Fifty-seven canal boats laden with seven thousand and one hundred and seventy tons of coal reached tide water on Thursday.

Fresh Arrival.

D. J. Auchincloss, the Photographic Artist, has received a new lot of chromos, and claims the largest and best assortment in the city. Some of them are very pretty.

Milk.

The milk dealers of the Rondout portion of the city have lowered the price of their commodity two cents per quart. They are now selling it at six cents per quart. They think, however, the price will be but temporary if the present weather continues.

Admitted to the Bar.

At a general term of the Supreme Court held at Elmira on the 7th day of May, 1872, the following persons from this city were admitted as counsellors at law to practice in all the courts in this state: T. Decker in Westbrock, Wm. S. Kenyon, Jr., and A. Brooks Parker.

Organ Concert.

Mr. J. M. Loret, Jr., the celebrated organist of St. Ann's church, Brooklyn, will give an organ concert in the Church of the Holy Spirit in this city on Tuesday evening next, when the new organ will be tested by a master hand. Proceeds to be devoted to the benefit of the organ fund.

There seems to be a great deal of interest felt in Mr. Turck's benefit at Washington Hall this evening. People from the suburbs threaten to make a descent in large numbers and pack the house.

Money.

The money market is very tight. The banks do very little discounting, and business men complain of the scarcity of funds. The Canal Company is paying out about $10,000 per day, but as the boatsmen have been paying up old scores this does not very materially relieve the merchants who have filled them out this season.

Improvements.

George Thompson & Sons, the extensive pork-pickers and meat smokers in Hunter street, have been extending their establishment lately by putting on an addition of 38x23 feet. This gives them three large smoke-houses. The size of their building may be judged from the fact that it contains a quarter of million brick.

New Plaything.

George Von Beck arrived home on Wednesday evening and brought a new plaything with him. It consists of a champagne bottle (empty), to the bottom of which is ingeniously attached a music-box which will only perform its tunes when turned mouth downward. George had a heap of innocent fun with his bottle on Thursday, and shared it with his friends.

The Ins and Outs.

We see by the recent reports of pictures received for exhibition by the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in London, one by Jervis McEntee of this city "hung on the line." When it is known that over four thousand pictures were rejected, and among them works by American artists of such reputation as Bierstadt and A. Bradford, it will be seen that Mr. McEntee's works are appreciated abroad as well, if not better, than at home.

Tickets for Mr. Turck's benefit are said to be selling rapidly. The great play of Othello is an attraction of itself—but when it is remembered that it is to occur in Mr. Turck's native place his friends mean to rally on his stage.

Broke Down.

The steamer Hudson, of Farnham & Blanchard's towing line between this city and Troy, broke her piston on Wednesday night when abreast of Barrytown bound up with a large tow. On Thursday morning the George Washington of the same line towed the Hudson to McEntee & Dillon's foundry dock in this city, where the boat will be repaired. In the meantime another steamer, probably the Utica, will supply the place of the Hudson.

Turck's Benefit.

Mr. Turck's benefit to-night at Washington Hall will undoubtedly call out his friends and admirers in full force. Such an occasion affords the beneficiary's acquaintances an opportunity to testify their personal regard and good wishes by their presence—and the first benefit an artist ever receives (and this is the first ever tendered to Mr. Turck) is an event in his life never to be forgotten; and when it takes the form of an ovation, as this bids fair to do, it becomes an immense encouragement to the artist to study and strive to become worthy of the kindly interest thus manifested. A more difficult and dangerous position than Othello could not be undertaken by a young actor, and if Mr. Turck makes a hit in it in the provinces, it is a stepping stone to his fortune, and what is still more prized by a true artist—fame. We can wish him no better success than that he will acquire himself in the difficult task in the manner his many friends hope for. His support, so far as Messrs. Davenport, Martin and Moore and Miss Temple are concerned, will be more than good, and he will have the sympathy, but at the same time the criticism, of his friends.

Tows.

The following vessels left this city for New York on Thursday in tow of steamer Oswego: barges Brooklyn, David Terry; boats Thebes, Chas. French, Young Lion, Young Kilgour, Robt. Gorrell, P. B. Brook, Loyalist, Monitor, F. O. Norton, two Del. & Hal. Canal Co.'s boats, Honesty from Poikepsie, W. F. Curtis to Haverstraw, 14:50 to Hastings. Steamer Baltic for Albany: boats W. P. Hinkley, Wide World, Wm. Parks and Son, Burnside, John S. Heath, Matilda Miller, Ontario, M. Stile, C. B. Hill, Mohawk, Rattlesnake, Atlantic, Jerome Shot, Elsie, J. P. Betz, C. F. Bissell, Jerome Lapham, City of Kingston from Malden, J. Norton to Stuyvesant; barge Sam. Schuler to Catskill; schooner Industry to Turkey Point.

Steamer Geo. Washington for Troy; boats Julia, Aid, Thos. O'Brien, Inman, Prairie Belle, Star of the Union, Agnes, Woodward, Joseph Turckman, Swallow, Henry Nesbitt, Gen. Taylor, ten Penn. Coal Co.'s boats.

Steamer Columbia for Hudson: 12:30, ten Penn. Coal Co.'s boats, 6:55 to Catskill.
Steamer Isaac M. North for Newburgh: Penn. Coal Co.'s boats, boat 7:33, 1:35 to Poikepsie.

Up town from New York by steamer A. B. Valentini: barge Minchewitz; ice barge P. Dater; Daniel H. Haines, C. J. Ingleson, James Eagan, D. R. Walle, M. Caffrey, J. R. Holt, C. Holgate, G. Tabor, Muscama, Lady Loreta, Mary, Scow 3.

Not a Nice Thing to Do.

Mr. Edward Taylor, a nephew of Judge Nelson of Poikepsie, late Secretary of State, and a friend of his, hired a horse of one Smith, who keeps a livery stable in rear of the Poikepsie House in Poikepsie, on Wednesday, to take a ride, specifying no time for their return, and while on the road concluded to visit this place to see how it appeared as a city. In due time the two young gentlemen arrived at the Mansion House with the horse and wagon in fine order, and remained over night, amusing themselves by going to see the Washington troupe (which is a sensible thing to do). Judge Taylor's surprise when, by the early train north, there arrived a horse-looking youth, who, with a great deal of bluster, announced he was in pursuit of two horse thieves from Poikepsie, and they immediately "went for" the supposed thieves, which resulted in the apprehension of Mr. Taylor and his friend. Mr. Osterloo, the proprietor of the Mansion House, knowing Mr. Taylor to be a responsible young gentleman, and his father before him, advised the horse youth to pay his reward, take that horse and wagon and get out of this town with great dispatch, before some one put a running horse line about his neck and kept him in the city, which advice was acted on with remarkable promptness. The two young gentlemen, with marked surprise that any livery stable keeper in the city would reside in and are well known, should suspect them of desiring to steal even a six hundred dollar horse, returned there, and we venture to say, when they again desire to take a drive they will hire the horse elsewhere than at Smith's establishment.

The Harmonic Concert.

The second grand concert of the Kingston Harmonic Association was given on Wednesday evening in Music Hall, according to announcement and with very slight deviation from the distributed program.

We were happy to see the capacious hall so well filled by real lovers of real music. Warmness attendant upon the special arrangements of this busy season, and the intellects of our duty citizens combined to keep some of our citizens at home, to whom this occasion would otherwise have proved grateful and enjoyable. Those who did attend, so far as we have been able to ascertain, returned with their great expectations happily realized.

The stage arrangements, with one of Chickering's grand pianos shining in its newness at the right, and a fine-toned cabinet organ at the left, showed the managers disposed in excellent effect, and so also as to meet the arrangement of particular parts with the utmost possible quietness. Indeed the marshaling of the machinery, as well as the changes thereof, were in noticeable good taste.

The opening chorus from Elijah commencing with the beautiful air "I Lift Thine Eyes, followed by "He Watching over Israel" (to be sung at the Boston Jubilee), was well sung, though judged by hand and foot approval, the audience did not fully appreciate it.

The following and lighter pieces, "Primrose," from Mendelssohn, with its exquisitely delicate phrasing and movement, was received with enthusiasm. Solo—"The Lake," from Seidemann, was admirably sung by Mr. N. B. Wood, accompanied with piano and organ played by Prof. Tomkins and Wm. Kearen.

Anna's religious song, "Where the Bee Sucks," was as sweet, merry and rapid a musical dance of notes as one could possibly fancy; a chorus that fairly tripped without a stumble.

Miss Lillie Curtis sang the solo, "Waiting," a love song from Millard. Considering her youth and training, Miss C.'s attainment as a vocalist are truly remarkable. In this particular song she evinced the natural purity, sweetness and flexibility of her beautiful voice, as elsewhere its power and fullness were best brought out in solo song with choruses accompanying.

Prof. Van Kearen was put down for an organ solo from Mozart, but the grand instrument failing to arrive from New York, in his place Prof. Tomkins, with his wonderful skill, gave such a solo performance as none would have believed possible from a cabinet organ. But then he is an acknowledged Orpheus. Prof. Van Kearen afterwards did him self great credit in an organ solo.

Solo and chorus, "Indomitable," from Stabat Mater, in itself so grand and awful that when rendered as in this instance with powerful and concentrated effort, one forgets to be critical in the transportation of strains so crowded with agonizing supplications. Mrs. Wilson's voice in the solo was indeed full of waiting prayer. Solo and chorus, "Crowned with the Tempest," from Ernani, was full of grandness of thought, musical expression and effect. We have never heard Mr. Osterloo sing so grandly; as if inspired with the theme and in full possession of his trumpet-like voice. We are willing he should sing "Father Malloy," &c., elsewhere, but it did seem unnecessary to introduce the comic element with those classical and sacred composers. If our audiences like it, let them learn the beauty of fitness, and like the Partians, not "laugh in prayer time." Solo, "The Light of Other Days," was given by Mrs. Lefever in her usual refined sympathetic manner. Piano solo, "Waltz," was a brilliant performance by Miss Macaulay, and heartily encored. Solo and chorus, "Ave Maria," from Lurline, in which Mr. Wood did his best as soloist, was most admirable, and confirmed the reputation of both Mr. W. and the Association for giving the nice shades of expression called for in compositions of this dramatic character.

"I waited for thee Lord," duo and chorus, was effectively sung, Miss Curtis and Mrs. Lefever admirably sustaining each other in the duet. Old English Chant, "Ab Sophia," &c., though sung with exactness and animation, fell a little flat upon the audience. The style of the music is not yet domesticated here. Chorus, "Cradle Song," "Smile," where fathers and brothers helped sing the invisible baby to sleep, was melodious indeed; lovely in suggestion, soothing, too, to children of a larger growth. It was one of the choicest choruses of the occasion. Chorus, "Spanish Serenade," was an evident favorite with the Association, and sang con amore. It was arranged by Prof. Tomkins. Grandest and sublimest of all the choruses worthy to rank for ages as it has for long years, the prince of choruses. Handel's old "Hallelujah" came in as the climax, reaching as it deserved this full power of every voice. Of it will be recollected Handel himself says of its composition: "I did indeed seem to be with the redeemed and hear their praises." We hope that to the Association, as well as to the audience, the concert proved a grand success.

Fire in Ulster.

Thursday evening a fire broke out in the woods near the village of Dasherly, and threatened to destroy the entire village. The inhabitants turned out en masse and after a severe fight succeeded in checking the flames in time to save the buildings in the vicinity. Newburgh Telegraph.

New Contract.

Messrs. John A. Green & Co., late lessees of the Rondout & Oswego Railroad, have the contract for the enlargement of a canal in Georgia. Mr. H. H. Penny, late Superintendent for the contractors from Pine Hill to Stamford, accompanies Green & Co. to Georgia in the same capacity.

Wedding at Saugerties.

The people of Saugerties were made happy over the event of a wedding which took place last Wednesday afternoon, in the Episcopal church of that village. The church was crowded with people to witness the nuptial ceremony. The bride, Miss Sarah A. Marchant of Saugerties, was beautifully dressed in white organzie, with tulle veil and orange blossoms. There were three bridesmaids, Miss Maggie Pascoe, of New York city, who was dressed in white organzie, trimmed with white lace; Mrs. Bridgford, of New York city, dressed in lavender silk, trimmed with valencienne lace, and Mrs. Harveys, of Brooklyn, who was dressed in heavy black silk, with white organzie overalls. The groom, Mr. Granville F. Keator, is a resident of Kingston City. The gentleman who acted, were Mr. Edward Mithrasen, of Kingston City, Mr. Charles Harveys, of Brooklyn, and Mr. Charles Bridgford, of New York. The ceremony was performed by J. J. Robinson, D. D., of Saugerties.

After the wedding a reception was given at the house of the bride's mother. The bride received many valuable presents, and after the reception the happy pair took their departure amidst the warmest wishes for their future welfare, of the many friends who were present.

PHOTOGRAPHIC CARD.

As making pictures of young children has become a very important branch of the business, a few hints on the subject will not be unavailing to those interested.

Mothers who wish to have babies appear in white should dress them in light blue, pink or something more trimmed or embroidered. An blue, or color mixed with blue, are photographically speaking white, according as the blue more or less predominate.

As children are often troublesome and restless, hard to get a picture of, and as I do not wish to be poor, I leave my gallery, or be bothered with the possibilities of which I have no control. I kindly request mothers to wear in mind that babies should be brought to the gallery between ten and two o'clock, the better the better. The reason for this is obvious to all.

FIRST:—The child is not so restless, the mother is in better humor in the forenoon, the artist is pretty likely to have had his breakfast, (we seldom ever get dinner) and is not so impatient, hence baby is more likely to get a good picture.

SECOND:—A PHOTOGRAPHER WISHES TO MAKE MONEY, OR AT LEAST ALIVE, AS WELL AS OTHER PEOPLE, AND DON'T LIKE TO FORTUNE WITH BABIES IN THE GALLERY IS FULL OF LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, WHO ARE WAITING FOR SITTING, AND SEE NO END TO THE BABY-RATTLE AND CHAT.

THIRD:—The light is not so powerful in the afternoon as in the morning. THE ACTING MOTHER OF THE CHILD ARE MORE ACTIVE FROM SUNRISE TO NOON, THAN FROM NOON TO SUNDOWN. IT WOULD BE WELL FOR MOTHERS TO BRING THEIR CHILD WHO WANT SITTING FOR THEMSELVES.

JOHN G. WOLVEN, OF THE CITY LIVERY, SALE AND EXCHANGE STABLES,

To supply the great demand of his customers, has purchased of Frederick & Co., of Brown's street, New York, a very fine LANDAU CARRIAGE of elegant design, IMPORTED FROM BERLIN, Prussia, at the cost of $3,000. It can be easily changed in three different ways to suit customers—closed, half top or open. He has also new buggies, two-seated park carriages, four-wheeled horse-drawn carriages, and several drivers, to be taken reasonable terms.

Having purchased nearly an entire new stock, he will sell his entire former stock, consisting of carriages, buggies, harnesses, three-wheeled wagons, half-tops, &c., &c., many of which are nearly new, at a great sacrifice. Summer boarding-house keepers and others who desire to procure good carriages and wagons at low prices, will do well to give him a call. No better bargains can be offered in the City of Kingston.

The Greatest Excitement SINCE THE FLOOD!

A. M. Low's PROCLAMATION FOR 1872,

READ IT!

A. M. LOW, the popular Book and Shoe Dealer of No. 19 Wall Street, City of Kingston, desires the people to know that he has stocked his store for the spring and summer of 1872 with all the very latest styles of Boots and shoes, which he is now offering at a figure that is an inducement for all in want of foot gear to extend to him their patronage. In the line of men's wear he introduces for the season a superior article of hand-made shoes, manufactured by Messrs. HANAN & HEDDING, of New York City. They are decidedly the "sensible" style ever placed in the market, made from the very best material and of the very best finish, and for which he is the sole agent in the City of Kingston. Besides these he has all other kinds in market of all the various shapes, styles, quality and price.

Low has a lot to commendable in this city of Western and Middle States, manufactured by Reynolds Brothers of Utica, and Messrs. C. & Co. of Albany, articles celebrated for their beauty, finish, durability and peculiarly of preserving their shape. He is selling heaps of them daily, which is the best advertisement they can have, for everybody who looks at them recognizes them as their neighbors. As usual, his stock is full in all the other grades of the line and will be kept so during the season.

Boys, Youth, Misses, Children, and infants all go to Low's to get their foot clothed, for there they can find a stock to select from that beats a thing out of New York City. Had he space he would like to commendable further—but it would fill this paper, and therefore he is obliged to stop with the simple announcement that he has the LARGEST STOCK AND STOCK IN THE CITY—that he purchases at Wholesale and sells at retail, and that he is determined to keep the lead in his line of business.

COFFIN PLATES KEPT AND ENGRAVED. WE DO PLAIN, FANCY AND ORNAMENTAL ENGRAVING. MONOGRAMMATIC LETTERING, &c. FRENCH CLOCKS PUT IN PERFECT ORDER.

As far as it taken with truth falsehood contends.—MILTON.

As given in a New York Journal: About a year ago, while investigating some intricate question in connection with high-class time-keepers, we were accorded the privilege, thro' the courtesy of Mr. John Gowan, a member of the firm of Blunt & Co., of taking to pieces and personally inspecting a number of the same instruments that are now offered for sale, and were also shown their rates, and we now gladly testify that they are of a high order of excellence.

The Astronomical Clocks have the Graham escapement. The clock showing New York time is a clock of fine English manufacture, jewelled in the pallets and four pivot holes, and all the pivots have end bearings. The pinions have 18 leaves, and, like all high-class English work, are of the finest quality, and the pitchings are faultless. The pendulum is a mercurial one. The pendulum spring is double, having two springs set some distance apart. This spring was made and attached to the clock by Mr. Gowan's sons years ago, and all the adjustments are as near as possible perfect. This clock has always run with but little variation from its rate, and from it many of the keepers of the public and private clocks in the city take their time, and, consequently, for many years, it has played an important part in regulating the city time, and is universally acknowledged to be a first-class running clock. The case is mahogany, of the plain square pattern with a projecting base, and a round head.—EDMON.

The above is for sale. Will make any one a good kitchen clock. Price $575.00 [No discount.]

We have all necessary tools and machinery to carry on successfully the manufacture of Jewellery—a branch of the business never before carried on in this place. Mr. C. is a practical Watchmaker and Manufacturer of Jewellery, having also had large experience (six years) in making Watch Cases of Gold and Silver, in New York City.

We will make to order any article of Jewellery of any desired style, and use gold or silver furnished us by our customers, who are desirous of keeping the same as keepsakes. We do enamelling in colors on Gold or Silver—using Hard Enamel. We set Diamonds and other precious stones in any style. We make plain, chased or engraved Solid Gold Rings of fine Gold, or of any quality, at a few francs' price. We melt, roll, draw and work Gold and Silver, into any form on the premises. We cut stencil plates for marking clothing.

WATCHES.

FINE WATCHES REPAIRED AND MADE TO KEEP TIME AS NEAR AS POSSIBLE.

We refine gold and silver. We repair any kind of silver or plated ware in the best manner. We do any kind of repair to watch cases. We make case springs to fit any watch, and warrant them not to break. WE WILL MAKE ANY PART OF A WATCH—any wheel, pinion or jewel of Sapphire, Ruby, Aquia Marine, Chrysolite or Garnet; any plate or bridge, any screw or spring, including a hardened and tempered hair spring. We insert new pivots in the best possible manner, or can make an entire watch in one stroke, without any outside help. We adjust the watches to heat, cold, and to different positions, and carefully isochronize the hair spring, and guarantee them not to vary more than a few seconds in a month, and will keep in stock watches of our own adjusting.

WE MAKE SOLID GOLD JEWELRY.

We here desire to express our thanks for the increasing patronage we are receiving. By dealing as we would be dealt by we hope to merit its continuance.
